

NEW MOON IN VIRGO · FRIDAY, 11 SEPTEMBER 2026

Scorpio

This ritual is for friendships, community, and future goals.

No one who ever changed anything did it entirely alone, and the Virgo New Moon asks you to stop pretending otherwise.

PREPARATION

Face south. Let the room be clean but not sterile — community is warm, and so is this altar. Silence your phone and let a soft choral hum or uplifting ambient sound carry the background like many voices in agreement. Pour a glass of wine or warm tea, hold it between both hands, and before drinking, think for a moment of someone you want in your corner — then sip as though their presence is already real. Close your eyes and build the vision of your people: specific faces, a shared table, the particular joy of being known and knowing in return — and alongside that, the future goal that your circle is helping you reach. Open your eyes when the vision includes both you and others. The ritual begins now.

THE RITUAL

Light the black candle and understand that here, darkness is not absence — it is the fertile ground where deep friendships and collective vision are planted.

Light the myrrh resin or incense and let the smoke move through the space as an offering to your circle — the ones who are already present and the ones who are coming.

Hold the obsidian in your hands and feel its weight, knowing this stone cuts through illusion — let it show you clearly which connections feed your future and which ones drain it.

Name aloud one person whose presence in your life you are actively grateful for, and then name one future goal you are claiming — let them stand side by side in the room, because they belong together.

Place the obsidian in front of the black candle so the flame reflects in its surface, and let the myrrh finish burning as the ritual seals.
