

FULL MOON IN PISCES · MONDAY, 4 SEPTEMBER 2028

Taurus

This ritual is for friendships, community, and future goals.

There is a version of your future that can only exist if you let other people into it.

PREPARATION

Face south. Arrange your space with generosity — move anything cluttered away, and if you have flowers or something living nearby, bring it closer. Silence your devices and let the music rise gently before you begin. Pour a glass of wine or warm tea, hold it briefly, and take a slow first sip thinking of the people whose faces come to mind when life is genuinely good. Close your eyes and picture the future community around you — the conversations, the laughter, the shared table — with the kind of detail that makes your chest warm. Open your eyes when the image feels populated and real.

THE RITUAL

Light the green candle and speak one friend's name aloud into the flame, letting the act of naming feel like an offering of gratitude rather than a casual gesture.

Scatter the rose petals in a loose circle around the candle while holding in mind the community or friendship you are calling toward you under this luminous Pisces full moon.

Place the rose quartz at the center of the petal circle and press two fingers to it, feeling its smooth weight as you silently state one specific future goal that is meant to be shared, not achieved alone.

Lift the rose quartz and hold it to the candlelight so the glow passes through or around it, visualizing the light as the warmth of connection moving outward from you in every direction.

Set the rose quartz back at the center of the rose petals, let the green candle burn for one more full minute, then extinguish it gently — the circle you have drawn tonight is already pulling what belongs to you closer.

YOU WILL NEED

green candle

rose quartz

rose petals

♪ uplifting ambient or soft choral tones