

FULL MOON IN GEMINI · TUESDAY, 10 DECEMBER 2030

Virgo

This ritual is for career, ambition, and public life.

Ambition is not a character flaw — it is a compass, and tonight's moon is asking you to stop apologizing for knowing which way you want to go.

PREPARATION

Face east. Organize the space with the precision of someone who is about to do serious work — this is not about perfection, but about the clarity that comes when things are in their right place. Silence every notification and let the room settle into the focused quiet of a place where things get done. Pour a small glass of dry red wine or a strong cup of black tea, hold it steadily in one hand and take one deliberate sip — not to relax, but to arrive. Close your eyes and picture your professional life as it is right now, and then let that image shift forward into what it is becoming: see the role, the recognition, the work that feels like yours to do and no one else's, with as much precise detail as you can hold. Open your eyes only when the direction feels clear and unwavering. The ritual begins now.

THE RITUAL

Light the brown candle with the deliberate steadiness of someone who has already decided, letting the act of lighting it mark the line between who you were before this moment and who is moving forward from it toward clear professional purpose.

Strip several leaves from the rosemary sprig and crush them between your fingers, breathing in the sharp clean scent as an act of sharpening focus under the light of Gemini — this scent is ancient and it means business.

Hold the amethyst at the center of your forehead for a slow count of seven breaths, eyes closed, picturing the next significant step in your career as if it has already happened: feel the room it happens in, hear the words spoken, know what it means.

Open your eyes and place the amethyst in front of the brown candle, then write the name of your goal — just its name, nothing else — on a piece of paper, and tuck a few crushed leaves of rosemary into the fold before sealing it.

Let the brown candle burn down fully if it is small, or extinguish it after no less than fifteen minutes with a single firm breath — not a wish, but a statement — that the work is underway and the direction is set.

YOU WILL NEED

brown candle

amethyst

rosemary

♪ minimal focused ambient or slow ceremonial drumming