

NEW MOON IN PISCES · MONDAY, 4 MARCH 2030

Taurus

This ritual is for friendships, community, and future goals.

Every future you have ever imagined was held first by the people who believed in it with you.

PREPARATION

Face south. Arrange your space generously — make room as if a guest might arrive, because in a sense, you are inviting the future in. Silence all notifications and let some soft choral music settle into the room before you even begin. Pour a glass of something warm and sweet — herbal tea or a light wine — hold the cup between your palms, and take one slow sip as an act of welcome. Close your eyes and picture your people: the ones already in your life and the ones still making their way toward you, see the warmth between you like candlelight across a shared table. Open your eyes when you feel genuinely glad. The ritual begins now.

THE RITUAL

Light the green candle and place it where its light can reach the full width of your space, letting it represent the abundance that grows when shared under this Pisces new moon.

Scatter a handful of rose petals in a loose circle around the candle, placing each one with the name — spoken softly — of someone whose presence in your life you are genuinely grateful for.

Take the rose quartz in both hands and hold it at heart level, breathing slowly as you form one clear image of a future goal you wish your community to witness and support.

Speak that goal aloud — one sentence, specific and present tense, as if it has already quietly begun — and then press the rose quartz down into the center of the petal circle as a declaration planted in shared ground.

Let the green candle burn for at least twenty minutes before you extinguish it, and carry the rose quartz with you to your next gathering with another person as a silent reminder that your future is not a solitary project.
