

FULL MOON IN VIRGO · THURSDAY, 26 FEBRUARY 2032

Libra

This ritual is for rest, letting go, and spiritual renewal.

There is a particular kind of courage required to put something down and walk away from it without looking back.

PREPARATION

Face west — the direction of the setting sun, of things completed, of water and release. Let the space around you become as soft as possible: lower or extinguish other lights, bring a blanket close, remove any objects associated with work or obligation from your immediate view. Silence your phone and do not check it again tonight. Pour a glass of something gentle — cool water, pale wine, mild tea — hold it lightly, barely gripping, and take one slow sip as an act of tenderness toward yourself. Close your eyes and imagine setting down something heavy you have been carrying: a worry, a resentment, an old story you have told yourself too many times — see your hands actually opening, feel the weight leave them, and notice what the air feels like in a body that has just let something go. Stay there until the lightness feels real. Open your eyes only then. The ritual begins now.

THE RITUAL

Light the pink candle slowly, with a long exhale after the flame takes, as if the lighting itself is a sigh of relief.

Place one drop or a small cloth with ylang ylang oil nearby and breathe its warmth in for a full minute, letting it signal to your nervous system that safety is here and nothing needs to be held onto tightly.

Hold the rose quartz in your left hand and name — whispered is enough — the thing you are releasing under this full moon in Virgo — not explaining it, not justifying it, simply naming it and letting the stone receive it.

Set the rose quartz beside the candle and open both hands palm-up in your lap, staying in that open position for several minutes while the ylang ylang scent continues to move through the air.

When the time feels complete, gently close your hands — not in a fist, but softly — as a gesture of receiving the peace that comes after release, and let the pink candle burn until it extinguishes itself or until you are ready for sleep.
