

NEW MOON IN CAPRICORN · THURSDAY, 22 DECEMBER 2033

Aries

This ritual is for career, ambition, and public life.

Ambition is not a flaw to be managed — it is the original fire, and tonight you are tending it.

PREPARATION

Face east. Clear the surface before you — move anything that does not belong, so the space itself signals intention. Silence your phone and close the door; the world will wait. Pour a glass of warm tea or red wine, hold the cup in both hands for a breath, and take one slow sip before setting it down. Close your eyes and picture the version of your work life you are calling forward — the specific desk, the specific title, the specific feeling of being known for something real — and hold that image until it has weight. Open your eyes only when you feel the quiet click of readiness. The ritual begins now.

THE RITUAL

Place the red candle at the center of your space and light it, watching the flame settle into its own still authority before you proceed.

Hold the carnelian in your dominant hand and close your fingers around it, letting its weight remind you that your drive is a physical force, not just a wish.

With your other hand, take a pinch of cinnamon and release it slowly over the candle's heat — not into the flame, but near enough to let the scent rise — as you name aloud the one career ambition you have been afraid to say at full volume.

Set the carnelian at the base of the red candle and speak a single sentence that begins with 'I am building' — precise, present tense, no hedging — and let the Capricorn New Moon receive it as a contract.

Let the red candle burn for at least ten minutes while you sit in stillness, then snuff it — do not blow — and carry the carnelian with you for the next three days as a physical reminder of what you have claimed.
