

FULL MOON IN CAPRICORN · TUESDAY, 12 JULY 2033

Taurus

This ritual is for travel, beliefs, and expanding horizons.

The life that fits you perfectly may exist just past the edge of everything you currently call known.

PREPARATION

Face south. Open a window if you can, or at least imagine the room breathing outward toward a horizon you have not yet reached. Silence all notifications and let the music fill the space with a sense of wide geography. Pour a glass of wine or warm spiced tea, hold the cup to your lips, and take one slow sip as if tasting somewhere new. Close your eyes and build the scene of a place or a belief that has been calling to you — feel the light there, the texture underfoot, the particular quality of being a person who has moved beyond the familiar. Open your eyes only when a sense of genuine openness arrives in your chest. Something in you is already leaving.

THE RITUAL

Light the green candle facing south, and as the flame catches, let it represent the green light you are giving yourself to move toward something larger.

Scatter the rose petals in a loose arc in front of you — not a tidy circle, but an open curve, like a path leading away from where you stand — symbolizing the route forward.

Hold the rose quartz in both hands and breathe into it the name of one belief, destination, or philosophy you are ready to explore fully and without reservation.

Walk slowly through the arc of rose petals, step by deliberate step, as if crossing a real threshold from the contracted version of your world into the expanded one you are calling under this Capricorn Full Moon.

Set the rose quartz at the far edge of the petal arc and leave it there through the night, a stone-weight anchor for the new direction you have named.
