

FULL MOON IN CAPRICORN · TUESDAY, 12 JULY 2033

Sagittarius

This ritual is for money, income, and material security.

Security is not a dream — it is a set of decisions, made repeatedly, in the direction of something real.

PREPARATION

Face north. Settle your body before you settle anything else — sit with your feet flat on the floor and feel the actual weight of your body against the surface beneath you, because this ritual is about the material world and it begins in the material body. Let the low forest sounds or tones move through the room like something slow and deep-rooted. Pour a glass of something grounding — red wine, strong tea, warm water with lemon — and take one slow, deliberate sip as if drinking steadiness. Close your eyes and picture your financial life not as a problem but as a landscape: see a version where the ground is solid, the resources are real, and you move through your days without the particular exhaustion of scarcity. Let that image develop in full sensory detail before you open your eyes. Let the ground beneath your feet remind you that solid things are built.

THE RITUAL

Light the purple candle with a sense of gravity and purpose, letting it represent your commitment to building genuine material stability under the grounded light of this Capricorn Full Moon.

Light a bundle or loose leaves of sage and move it slowly around your workspace, your desk, your wallet or purse, clearing the energy of financial anxiety and scarcity thinking from the objects most connected to your livelihood.

Hold the lapis lazuli in both hands and state aloud one specific, measurable financial goal — an income figure, a savings milestone, a debt cleared — naming it plainly as if reading from a document that already exists.

Press the lapis lazuli briefly against your forehead, then set it on top of a bill, a bank statement, or a notebook where you track your finances, anchoring your intention to the actual paper terrain of your financial life.

Let the purple candle burn while you spend fifteen minutes on one concrete financial task — a budget, a transfer, an email — so that the ritual does not end in ceremony but in the first real action of the change you named.
