

NEW MOON IN SCORPIO · SATURDAY, 11 NOVEMBER 2034

Capricorn

This ritual is for friendships, community, and the vision of your future.

The future you are working toward has always been built by the company you keep and the clarity with which you imagine it.

PREPARATION

Face south. Let the choral tones begin and allow them to expand the room before you do anything else — this ritual calls for a generous, outward-facing energy and the music should help you find it. Tidy the space with a light hand, moving anything that isolates or contracts the feeling. Pour a glass of something you would happily share with a person you admire, hold it a moment, and take one slow sip with gratitude for the people who have already found their way into your life. Close your eyes and picture your community — not every face, but the feeling of belonging to something that matters, of people building something together, of a future that is genuinely visible and good. Stay with it until it feels real enough to act on. Open your eyes and bring that vision into the room with you. It is already part of what you are calling in.

THE RITUAL

Hold the black tourmaline in your dominant hand and name aloud the one friendship or community connection you most want to strengthen, saying their name or describing the group plainly, without sentimentality, as a direct act of intention.

Light the dark green candle and let the warmth of the flame correspond to the warmth of the community you are tending, sitting with the knowledge that lighting this candle is a small act of commitment to the people and the future you named.

Pass a small amount of cypress through the candle's warmth, breathing in its clean, ancient scent — a scent associated with the long view, the enduring, the things worth building slowly and with others.

Set the black tourmaline directly before the dark green candle and write — on a slip of paper — one concrete step you will take this month to show up for your community or to move your shared future vision one degree closer.

Fold the paper and place it beneath the black tourmaline, press your hand over both, and let the Scorpio new moon seal your commitment to the people and the future that are already growing toward you.
