

FULL MOON IN GEMINI · FRIDAY, 16 NOVEMBER 2035

Libra

This ritual is for travel, beliefs, and expanding horizons.

What if the life you have been living is only one of several that were always available to you — and tonight is the night you open the door to a larger one?

PREPARATION

Face south. Open a window slightly if the night allows it — let outside air move through the space, because this ritual is about what lies beyond familiar edges. Clear away the close and the cluttered, and make the room feel as open as it can. Pour a glass of something light and aromatic — a floral wine or a cup of peppermint tea — hold the glass and breathe it in before taking one long, unhurried sip. Close your eyes and picture yourself somewhere you have never been, or inhabiting a belief you have not yet let yourself hold: feel the ground under different feet, smell different air, and let the edges of what you think is possible expand outward in every direction. Open your eyes only when the room feels wider than it did before. The ritual begins now.

THE RITUAL

Light the pink candle and let a few drops of ylang ylang oil fall onto a cloth or your wrist nearby, breathing the warm floral scent as you watch the flame and feel the edges of possibility softening and widening.

Hold the rose quartz in your left hand and stand up — actually stand — turning slowly to face all four directions in succession, pausing at each one to silently acknowledge that the world extends fully outward in every compass point from where you are.

Sit back down with the rose quartz still in your hand, close your eyes, and state aloud one belief you are willing to examine under this Gemini full moon, and one place — real or symbolic — you are ready to travel toward in the coming months.

Place the rose quartz on a map, a photograph, or a blank piece of paper on which you have drawn a simple horizon line, positioning it at the far edge as an anchor for the journey that is already beginning.

Anoint the base of the pink candle with one more drop of ylang ylang and let it continue to burn while you sit quietly, listening to the music and letting your mind travel freely without agenda, closing the ritual only when the candle is extinguished and your hands are pressed together once, briefly, in gratitude.
