

NEW MOON IN TAURUS · TUESDAY, 8 MAY 2035

Aries

This ritual is for money, income, and material security.

There is a particular kind of quiet that settles over a person who knows exactly what they need — and tonight, under a sky with no moon to distract it, that quiet belongs to you.

PREPARATION

Face north. Clear the surface before you — remove clutter, fold what is soft, let the space feel like a table that means business. Silence your phone and any noise that belongs to someone else's world. Pour a glass of red wine or a cup of spiced tea, hold it with both hands, and feel the warmth move into your palms before you take a single slow sip. Close your eyes and picture money moving toward you in a form that feels real — not abstract wealth, but a specific invoice paid, a number reached, a hand that offers and yours that receives, the exact texture of that relief. Open your eyes only when your breath has slowed and your hands feel steady. The ground beneath your feet is solid, and so is what you are about to ask for.

THE RITUAL

Light the red candle and let your gaze rest on the flame for one full breath, feeling the heat as a sign that material abundance is alive, active, and moving.

Hold the carnelian in your dominant hand and press it firmly against your palm — not gently, but with intention — and say aloud the single most specific financial goal you are planting tonight.

Sprinkle a small circle of cinnamon clockwise around the base of the candle, each pass a silent instruction to the New Moon in Taurus to draw that goal into solid, material form.

Return the carnelian to the circle of cinnamon and set it there — let it sit inside what you have built, a seed inside its ring of earth.

Place both hands flat on the surface before you, breathe out completely, and speak one final sentence that begins with the words 'By the time this candle has burned, I will have taken the first real step toward' — then name it, seal it, and let the flame carry it forward.
